PROGRESS THROUGH ALSACE

Herr Singer, Leader of the Socialists in the Reichstag, Says There Is Every Prospect of Harmony in the Congress Which Meets at Breslau To-day - Ambassador Entertains.

Berlin, Get. 6.-Although Chancelor Von Bohenlohe and most of the memorrs of the German ministry will resume their departmental duties to-morrow, consideration of the legislative programme for the coming session of the Reichstag will not begin until the Emperor returns to Potsdam, which be will do on October 21.

The Emperor, although he has enjoyed a splendid season of sport at Rominten, where he has had remarkable success in baseing red deer and other big game, has gone to his hunting box at Hubertstock to inaugurate the annual Hubertsus hunt. On October 14 his majesty will start for Weishalen, where the Empress will join

IMPERIAL ITINERARY.

The programme arranged by the court marshal, marking out the progress of the Emperor and his party through Abace, in-cluding the ceremonies on the battlefield of Woerth, is now complete. It is now arranged that the imperial party, with the Emperor's full saft, will attend a gala per-formance in the Weisbaden opera house, after which, on October 15, the Kaker will take a train at Weishaden and proceed to Conreclles Kursel, near Metz. From there the imperial party will drive to the Schloss at Urville, where they will remain two days.

On the journey from Courcelles Kursel to Urville the emperor will be greeted with a popular reception, which has been prepared by the inhabitants of the locality. The programme contemplates a demonstration of the school children and the various societies designated to give the emperor what testimony can be elicited of the con-tentment of the people of Alsace of German

On October 18 the emperor will start of his father, Emperor Frederick III, on which occasion orations will be de-livered by Gen. Von Meschke and ex-Se relary of State Hoffman.

In addition to these addresses, the exerin addition to these addresses, the exer-cises will be participated in by the various German choral societies, and the cere-mones will end with a review of the troops by the emperor. In the evening the kniser, will give a grand banquet in the Imperial Palace at Strasburg, for which 300 covers will be hist on October 19 the kniser will st the Stranburg Garden, and start Scrimon the evening of that day. SINGER'S VIEWS.

Herr Singer, the leader of the Socialist party in the Reichstag, was interviewed by a United Press representative to-day in regard to the expected disagreements and possible raptures among the delegates to the Socialist congress in Ereslau. Herr Singer expressed his belief that everything would pass off harmoniously, and declared that the discord which the enemies of be Socialist party predict and desire ould not end in a serious rupture. Whatever differences of opinion night exist or arise within the party, he said would be met by the prevailing spirit of compromise and conciliation, which was too strong to permit factional bickerings to overthrow the principles and deflect the aims of the pary.

The Socialist party, he said, was again placed in the position of facing probable measures of repression but he had no fear that the Reichstag would assent to any exceptional laws. He thought, however, that the Landiag might go to the extreme of enacting niensures which would result in an increase of legal prosecution through-

United States Ambassador Runyon enterrained the American delegates to the interrational geofetic congress at the American embassy last evening. The delegates expressed their pleasure at the reception, which had been accorded to them by the congress, which has paid attention to American researches. In pursuing this policy the congress recognized the pro-priety of placing Prof. Chandler in the forefront of the delegates. On Tuesday the delegates will be the guests of the Emperor at the new palace in Potsdam Yesterday the delegates in-spected the electrical works of the Siemens Brothers, at Charlottenburg. It is a remarkable fact that the American embassy has not yet received any official information in regard to Stern's case. The Munich papers explain this by de-claring that a basis of diplomatic nego-tiations which would enable Ambassador Runyon to interfere directly in Stern's behalf is wholly lacking.

New York, Oct. 6.-The Norwegian fruit steamer, Franklin, Capt. Rasmussen arrived from Baracoa to-day after a rough

On October 4, in latitude 36.34, longi tude 73.26, during a heavy northeast gale, a dismasted vessel was sighted and on a neater approach signals of distress were seen. The Franklin bore down upon the wreck and found her to be what was left of the schooner William Frederick, of Belfast.

The sea was running mountain high and it was very hazardous to lower boats, but there seemed to be no prospect of the weather moderating so Capt. Rasmussee directed the lifeboat to be manned and lowered, and after a bard pull the schooner was reached.

Then the distressed schooner's crew of ven in all jumped overboard one by one and were picked up by the Franklin's crew in the lifeboat. All hands were taken safely on board the Franklin, but the lifeboat was dashed to pieces against the steam-er's side when the crew were about to hoist her on board.

After a peritous night, which will doubtess live in the memory of all the crew, he Franklin was sighted. Capt. Jordan said it did not seem possible for a small boat to live in the heavy sea that was runone of the interdepty sea that was run-ning, and he highly praised the heroism of those who manned her. He and his crew saved only the clothes they stood in, all their effects being sub-merged. When left the schooner's waist was broken out with the swashing and pounding of the deck load, and Capt. Jor-dan thinks she will soon break up. It was impossible to set fire to her. The schooner William Frederick halled from Belfast, Me., where she was built in 1874. She was of 430 tons register, and was Workmen in the Navy Yard Not in Danger of a Reduction.

Efforts to reduce laborer's wages in the Norfolk and New York navy yards proved insuccessful because they foiled to meet the approval of the Navy Department.

Secretary Herbert deliberated over the matter upon the report of Admiral Brown at Norfolk has week and after investigation notified the commandiant that he had been unable to find that labor in the general market was cheaper and that inconsequence no decrease should be made. The ratings made in the navy yards are taken from the prices, prevailing outside, hence the Secretary's decision. The decrease recommended would have amounted to between 5 and 10 cents per day for the laborer.

Acting Secretary McAdoo rendered a similar opinion with regard to the New York Navy Yard, informing the officer there that until outside prices begin to wane, no decrease would be made in the wages paid government workers.

As the track is al-ready laid down the wharf way it is likely that they will make the crossing within the next day or two if no further interposition is made by the Baltimore and Ohio. Opinion is a little mixed on the merits of the case over in Georgetown. Some of those who were spoken to said that the Tennallytown road had no right to pro-

The granting of the right of the Tennally-town road to the water in that locality ap-pears to be a very valuable one and would naturally be resisted by the Haltimore and Ohio, which has a line in front of all the wharves along Water street.

It was not practicable to see the officers of the Tennallytown road last night, all the information obtainable being from employes who knew only the facts as they

SANK MENEATH ITS BURDEN. The foundation for the building extended about ten feet above the bas ment bottom, and on this was erected a platform, where the ceremonies were being held. Over 1,000 persons were standing on the floor when a section of it, containing about 300 people, sank beneath its burden and pre-cipitated them into the pit.

The section which gave way was in two wings, and as it sank it formed a death trap for the people from which there was no chance to escape. The pit resembled an no chance to escape. The pit rescabled an inverted roof of very steep slant, the ends being closed up by stone walls, and into this were crowded men, women and children in one struggling beap.

As the floor gave way a great cry went up from the multitude, but in another second it had fallen and carried in its rain the fives of several persons. Those at the top of the mass escaped easily, but when the pit was partly emptied those victims still entrapped could not chamber up the steep sides, and they trampled clamber up the steep sides, and they trampled over meh other like so many wild creatures the strong getting on top and the weak being crashed beneath the great weight.
